This is the journey you have to make. You must collect all seven letter clues and arrange them to spell the name of this bushranger. Your share of the reward is waiting at the Visitor Centre.

Warning: Do not step off the paths.

Remember – every word counts! ..and when in doubt, look at the pictures! The answer is there, but you have to find it ...and it's not easy! Can you find the bushranger's name?

- 1 Begin at the Education Amphitheatre. Seek your first letter clue under where others sit.

- 2 From where water begins to flow near this place, head northwards and westwards along different paths, upward and along to where many paths meet between Rowan and Banks, buildings of red and green. Your second letter clue comes in instruction 4.
- 3 At this place of many paths you will find Who Lives Here? Follow the path to the first station, where the web hangs in the tree. Be careful not to become the fly. Walk on, taking the first path left and keep left until you reach the Main Path. The Main Path is marked with numbers (coloured black on grey) that are 10 big steps apart. You will know that you are on the right path when you find numbers 15 then 16, 17 and on...

- 4 Watch out for the trail that leads away on a wide black path – one that Indigenous peoples might take. Turn off the Main Path and follow it. Lomandra holds your second letter clue.

- 5 Follow the Aboriginal Walk till you reach the Main Path again. This is where the water falls and where circles grow around circles. The 4th circle holds your third letter clue.

- 6 Walk along to Main Path marker 102 where you must walk a full circle. Observe burrawangs closely but beware the fruit. The fourth letter clue is here. Beware others who seek the same treasure! Keep right and emerge by tall candlebark.

- 7 At Main Path marker 109 look around and down at the same time to find your fifth letter clue.
- 8 Backtrack to 107 where many paths cross. Walk on downward, but stay hidden in the forest, past wood of pencil, and go where steps proceed further down.

- 9 From the right place on Epiphyte Landing, locate your sixth letter clue.
